Monday December 28, 2020 7:11am PST Joe RossignolLG has begun rolling out a software update that includes AirPlay 2 and HomeKit support for some 2018 smart TV models, according to several MacRumors readers, providing a promise the company made earlier this year. AirPlay 2 allows users to stream videos, music, podcasts and more directly from the iPhone, iPad or Mac to a compatible LG smart TV, without the need for an Apple TV. HomeKit... WhatsApp recently added a sticker feature allowing its users to send different stickers during chat, like other instant messaging apps. In the latest version of Update 2.18, users can now see the new option in the app's emoji section called Stickers. In the beginning, only one packet of stickers comes pre-installed with an update. However, the built-in sticker store allows you to download more, the store also has the ability to download stickers from the Google Play Store. While several third-party sticker packs are available, it still lacks some good stickers that you can use. So why not create your own stickers and use it. Well, if you're looking to create your own stickers, follow our step-by-step guide. Preliminary Requirements: The latest version (2.18) or above WhatsApp Working Internet Connection First Step: Creating an image without a background The first thing you have to do is click the images with the expressions you want and convert it into a PNG file format without a background. To do this, open the smartphone camera and click a few images, and now let's convert them into a format of PNG file without a background, and then add them to WhatsApp. So here's how to convert your photos to PNG with or without a background. 1. Open the Google Play Store and look for any background eraser app 2. Now open any image you want to convert to Sticker 3. Erase the background and trim it accordingly 4. Save the image in PNG format (as WhatsApp only supports the PNG format for stickers) Note: Create at least three images as WhatsApp does not allow you to add a sticker pack with less than three images in it. 1. Download the app and open it 2. The app will automatically detect all the stickers you have created 3. Click on the Add button next to Sticker 4. Click again on the 'Add' option when asked after it's done, open WhatsApp and go to the Stickers section by clicking on the emoji icon to the left of the text box. Choose the sticker option and look for added stickers. Click on it to send. Image credit: Peter Macdiarmid/Getty I recently purchased some smart light bulbs and plans to expand its smart lights. I noticed a slight inconvenience during the installation, however: it was hard to tell which light bulb was that wasn't looking into the app. So I added visual help for my bulbs using emoji stickers. It's much easier to see banana light instead to find out which light bulb is a Hue living light lamp 7, and your ceiling fan is off. Get some stickers you'll need a few stickers, of course. You can get 1,344-pack emoji stickers on Amazon. They are minuscule, just half an inch in diameter, so it won't negatively affect the lamp. If you have bulbs inside fixtures like lampshades or sconces, you won't even see them until you need to. Raspberry Pi makes a great brain for your smart home and show how much you can do... More With smart lamp LEDs, and don't get as hot as traditional bulbs, you don't have to worry about stickers melting or peeling. I assigned fruit emojis for my living room, and emojis for my office. No doubt you can use appropriate homemade emojis for the rest, or separate them by color. This makes it easier if you ever have to move as well. You can leave the lamp settings like they were without reassignment or rearrange them because you forgot which light bulb went where. Assign emoji to AppAfter you select some stickers and apply them to your smart light bulbs, you will have to rename them accordingly. In the Philips Hue app, you can simply pre-install the name of the lamp with matching emojis. Even if you don't have a ton of smart gear, classifying them with this emoji cut makes it easier to manage the gears you'll add in the future. WhatsApp has finally added a sticker feature allowing users to send different stickers during chat, like other instant messaging apps. In the latest version of Update 2.18, users can now see the new option in the app's emoji section called Stickers. If you want to create your own custom stickers here's how a guide for you To mor video emoji fun to use in almost any case, and while it seems an endless number to choose from, learning to create your own emoji is the best way to get exactly what you want. Because let's face it, sometimes there are just no emojis for this exact expression on your face. When you create your own smiley face, you can have it all you want: an object, a weather icon, a symbol, a facial expression, or something else entirely. You are limited only by your imagination and the ease of using the emoji maker. There are a lot of emoji builders out there, but below is a tutorial of the best ways to create your own emojis that you can use on your phone, tablet or computer. How to create your own emoji on iPhone Emojily by far is the best way to create your own on the iPhone. It has a make-from-scratch option and a random method of quickly creating emojis. It's great for creating emojis of your emotions. With the new option from the app's home screen, you get a few creation tools. From left to right, this is the order in which you do emoji: Choose a template like a multicolored base, a square face, or a taco head. Choose a pair of eyes. Decide on some eyebrows. Turn your mouth over the options to find the right one. Add some facial hair if you like. Additionally, choose some hand gestures: Choose one of the objects to make your emoticons stand out. Choose an emoji hat. Each option is customized, so you can drag them around the background emojis, rotate them, and want to see them using the usual finger gestures. Click the download button when you're done to save custom emojis in the gallery. Get out emoji and go to the settings of the 'gt: General's keyboard zgt; keyboard zgt; add a new keyboard to emoji add an emoji keyboard to your phone and make sending a custom emoji very easy. When you're ready to use custom-built emojis, use the app drawer next to the keyboard to select a two-face emoji icon. That's where you'll find the emojis you made. Emoji Me Animated Faces is a similar free app for iPhone and iPad. iOS 13 and iPadOS users can make emojis with Memoji .Animated Memoji are only available on the iPhone X and later, the iPad Pro 11-in and the iPad Pro 12.9-in (3rd generation). How to create your own emoji on Android Creating your own emoji on Android is easy with emoji maker. If you don't want to waste time creating your own, there is also a gallery you can browse to find popular emojis made by other users. Something unique about this emoji maker is that as you choose different parts of emoticons, you can see the preview immediately. This will help you decide what to choose because you don't have to guess what it will look like if you choose it. Here's how the Emoji Maker works on Android: Tap new emojis from the home screen. Choose a background for your emojis. It can be anything from a dog or bear face to heart, a vegetable, a cat, or a circle. There are even animated backgrounds. Use menu icons at the bottom of the app to select eyebrows, eyes, mouth, hand gestures, hair, facial hair, mask and more. Click on the tick in the top right version to save custom emojis in the gallery in the app. Click on the emoji and then share the share button to share it through any of your apps. Bitmoji is another great option for creating emojis on Android and iOS. The emojis that you can make in this app are usually much harder looking into the fact that there are captions and full scenes, but they are still very easy to do. Similar is Chudo, but it's marketed more like a messaging app with a live, augmented reality emoji that sits on top of your real face. How to Create Your Own Emoji With a Computer Free Online Emoji Maker on Labely is a great resource for your own emoji. You can use the full screen of your desktop computer to make great emoticons by choosing the shape, background color, eyebrows, facial features, accessories and text. When you're done, you can share the emoji via Facebook Pinterest, or Twitter, or save it on your computer to do with it the way you want. The emoji-maker is similar, but much easier to save for your computer. Computer. Lots of options for face shapes and other functions, and a built-in text tool allows you to write on emojis. The maker of pi-ep emojis is another option for computer users. Some of the value options, and high-quality exports are not free either, but there are still plenty of unique emoji building tools (and standard quality exports are certainly still good enough). As you can see, there are many ways to make your own smiley face. You can do this on your computer, with your Android or iPhone, or on your tablet. Some of these methods are better than others if you want to send emoticons using your phone keyboard, but others are excellent under the guise of email or Facebooking emojis from your computer or using emoticons in other projects. No matter which method you choose, making your own smiley face is definitely fun. Creating brand new emojis that most other people don't use can set you apart in group messages and even allow your friends to reuse your emojis. Emoji.
